Summary of activity: Department of CSE VVIT's, On IEEE Day, a quiz competition was held to test the technical knowledge of participants. The competition had multiple rounds covering topics like electrical engineering, computer science, and robotics. Participants tackled each question enthusiastically, supported each other, and showcased their analytical skills. The difficulty level increased as the competition progressed, and winners were recognized and rewarded. Overall, the quiz competition celebrated the spirit of IEEE Day, fostering camaraderie and academic excellence within the community.
Benefits : 1. Enhancing knowledge: Participating in quiz competitions helps students expand their knowledge base. They are exposed to a wide range of questions related to various aspects of IEEE, including its standards, technologies, and advancements. This helps them gain a deeper understanding of the subject matter and stay updated with the latest developments in technology. 2. Improving problem-solving skills
